ECHOES OF THE LIFELINE[®] PROGRAM IN ROMANIA

by Prof. Petru-Visarion Stetiu, PhD, TMI Cluj Chapter Leader, Cluj-Napoca, Romania.

In 2011, I had the chance to graduate the Lifeline (LL) program, the very first LL program ever held in Romania. The program was facilitated by my dear friend and mentor, Andrea Berger who was assisted by the Outreach facilitator, Ritta Nicoara. Since then I retrieved many persons from Here Now, or from Focus 23, to Focus 27, some of them being verified and confirmed in different ways. I consider this activity one of the most important and I always feel a great satisfaction when I am doing it.

In this article I would like to share with the readers an unusual experience I had recently. First, in order to understand the background of my story, let me briefly introduce the characters involved in it.

A niece of ours, named Rosalie, had severe kidney problems. In 2003, she received a kidney transplant from her mother. After the surgery, she took immunosuppressant medicines to avoid the new kidney being rejected. This worked quite well until the end of 2012, when she started to have memory and movements troubles. Investigations showed her brain was injured due to the immunosuppressant medicines she had taken for so many years. In spite of all efforts, her situation worsened more and more.

Here begins my story. At the end of December 2012, our nephew informed us that Rosalie had entered in a profound coma and was dying. So, I went “up there” in Focus 23 with the intention to retrieve her and take her to Focus 27. Once in F23, I asked a Helper to assist me to find Rosalie. The Helper appeared instantly but I was directed to F22, in Rosalie’s home, where her body was still in coma, and since she was out of the body, she communicated with us. So, I asked if she wanted to come with us and go into the Light and Love, meaning in Focus 27. And I was very pleased that she accepted. The Helper took her one hand and I the other one and we went serenely and calmly up to Focus 23, then to Focus 24. There she did not want to remain and we went on to Focus 25. There, as well as in the other focus levels, I explained to Rosalie what it was all about and asked her if she wanted to visit some churches or communities there. She said she wanted to go to a Catholic church and, as always, her thought was instantly fulfilled. In the church she knelt and said a few prayers. Then I asked her if she wanted to remain there. “No”, she said, “I am going further on with you”. So, we passed through Focus 26 and arrived in Focus 27. There we went to the Reception Center, where we entrusted Rosalie. Before we parted, I told her she could go freely anywhere between Focus 27 and any other lower states of consciousness.

I was very pleased that I could help her and I returned without problems in the physical world reality, but not before thanking Rosalie and the Helper. The next day, I expected to hear from my nephew that his wife passed away. Instead, he called to tell us that Rosalie awakened from coma and had reported some unusual things. First of all, she said she had no physical body anymore, being only spirit, that death is not some horrible thing and certainly not as it is described by religions. Quite the contrary, she said, “over there it is very nice, a lot of peace and light”. Well, I said to myself, maybe I was wrong taking Rosalie too soon to Locale Two and I felt a little bit confused. Then we found out that Rosalie’s 6-year-old daughter, who suffered the loss of her mother a lot, had dreamt that very night that she gave energy to Rosalie in order for her to come back to life. I said to myself, well, daughter’s energy and the knowledge of the path to Locale One let Rosalie come back and have another chance to live. And she became since then a totally new person.

Unfortunately, her family did not understand what a huge opportunity was given to Rosalie and instead to begin another way to live, in order to save her, and in spite of our advice, they continued to submit Rosalie to all kind of medical investigations, treatments and so on. This lasted until the middle of January 2013, when Rosalie’s state worsened more and more. Finally, she entered again in a deep coma and recovered shortly from it a few times over several days. When she recovered from coma the last time, she was aware that she was passing away, but was not at all afraid. Quite contrarily, she told the family she has to go because she is awaited to have her wedding with God, “who is a funny Guy”. Then serenely and calmly, she passed away.

Knowing about this, a day later I went again in Focus 23 and I asked for a Helper to assist me to find her. Immediately the Helper appeared and she was there instantly too. So, I asked her if she wanted to come with us again in the place full of light and love she knew. She said “no, I want to see what will happen at my funeral”. I did not insist, took leave from the Helper and from Rosalie and went directly to Focus 27 to “my place”. During this movement, I suddenly felt Rosalie coming up with me. Well I said to myself, this is strange, but I did not comment at all. Arriving in Focus 27, Rosalie was so happy, she played among the flowers over there, singing and laughing. I asked her what her “soul name” was and she told me “here I am Veris”. Then I took a look back in Focus 23 and I saw another Rosalie over there. And then I understood: Rosalie had split in two, a part of her remaining in F23, the other one coming with me in F27, because she already knew the way. And I was again pleased, because I remembered that during the LL program I had such a wonderful splitting experience, feeling myself simultaneously in several focus levels at the same time.

The story does not end here. Several days later, after the funeral, I called our nephew. I could not tell him about my experience with Rosalie/Veris because he would not understand it. Instead, I told him “I dreamt” Rosalie and saw she was engulfed in light and very happy. He was very thankful to hear it, because he waited every day for a sign from her that she is ok.

So, he said, my dream was that very sign he was waiting for and expressed his gratitude for such news. Then the days went on.

Two weeks later I had another travel to Focus 23, where I met again Rosalie. She was there but she was worried. I talked to her and tried to help her join her other part in Focus 27. But she refused, saying her husband and daughter do not let her go, because they are crying a lot and keeping her in Focus 23. The same day I called our nephew and he confirmed that the entire family was mourning for her, confirming what Rosalie had told me.

I do not know if Rosalie/Veris eventually fully transitioned to Focus 27. Maybe I will find out someday. But from this experience we could draw a few conclusions: First, Lifeline is a very powerful program during which we learn how to help those who passed away. Second, we, the graduates of LL, have the duty to use our knowledge to help, if necessary, others transition to better places in Locale Two and perhaps also comfort their families. Third, part of our consciousness can be in one focus level, while other part(s) in other states of awareness. Forth, death is not as frightening and horrible as we were told in churches, schools and family, but rather as Bob Monroe described in his books. To be convinced of this truth, we have to experience an OOB. Fifth, with the aid of our Helpers, we can perceive the transition from life as very smooth. Sixth, there is confirmation that, if the family is mourning the deceased too hard or for too long, she/he is not free to move on to higher states of consciousness, retaining her/him in lower states of existence, or even attached to the physical plane. It is also interesting to note Rosalie's recollection of her soul name, Veris, in Locale 2. Michael Newton, when describing the life in-between lives of the souls in his book "Journey of Souls", also mentions the existence of soul names.
